

QUESTIONS

RESPONSES

47

47 responses

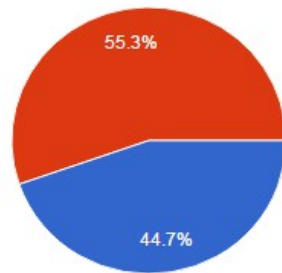

SUMMARY

INDIVIDUAL

Accepting responses

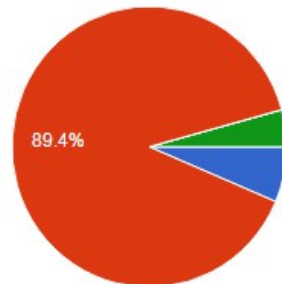

You are (47 responses)

Male Female

what is your age? (47 responses)

10-17
18-30
31-45
46-60

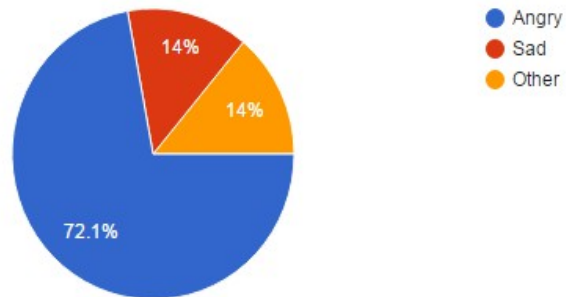

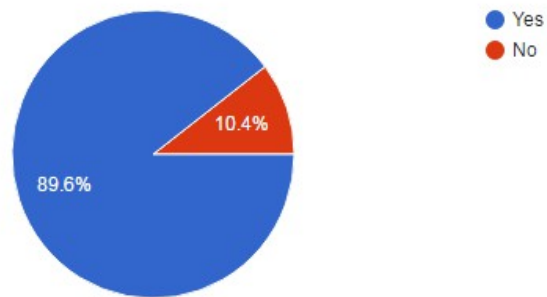

what is your occupation? (47 responses)

Student Working Both
Other

have you ever had the experience of someone doing things to you that pushes you over your patience limit?

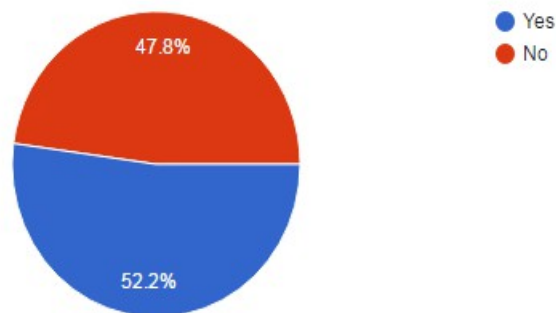

(48 responses)

How did you react to it? (44 responses)

have you every wondered why do they do it? (46 responses)

f yes, what do you think the reason is? (23 responses)

Mostly because the seek attention or pleasure.

they don't realise they are actually doing it

They think that I'm not brave enough to stood up and fight for my own dignity

They are selfish and doesn't think of others feeling

for fun

小时候有心里阴影

It's just them, they can't help it.

They don't like me

Er, not same concept mind?

hurt my feeling

They think that it isn't their problem.

depend on individual and matter

for my own good

They're probably going through a hard time.

They are indifferent and selfish, non-empathetic.

Because they look at people's rank

making fun

Well it all depends on the situation. I think probably pride and wanting control over someone or that they think it is best for you. No reason to be angry at them really.

She's have mental issues

annoy friends

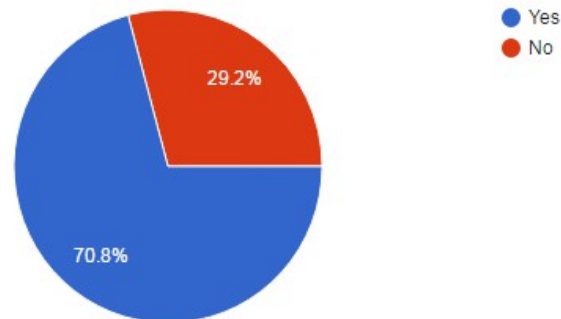

Their set of values are different from mine.

Envy

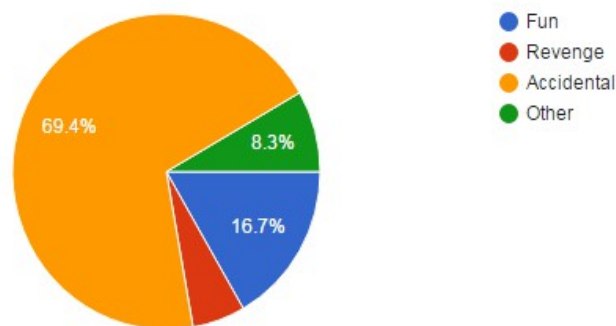

Character of that person

Have you ever done something that pushes someone beyond their patience limit?

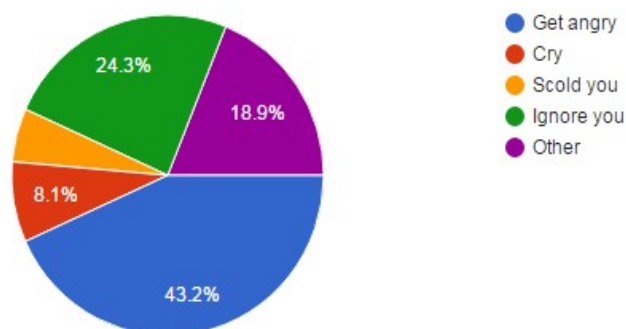

(48 responses)

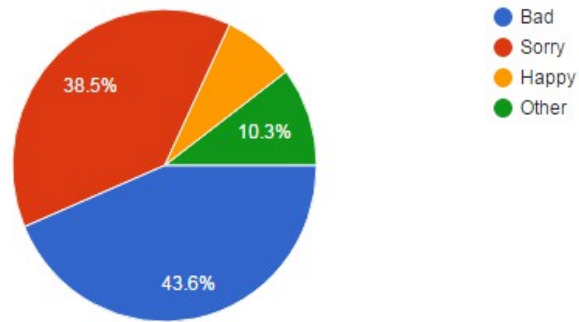

If yes, why did you do so? (48 responses)

How did the person react to you? Did they: (37 responses)

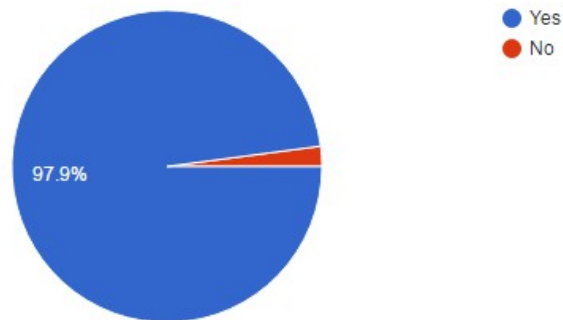

How did it make you feel? (39 responses)

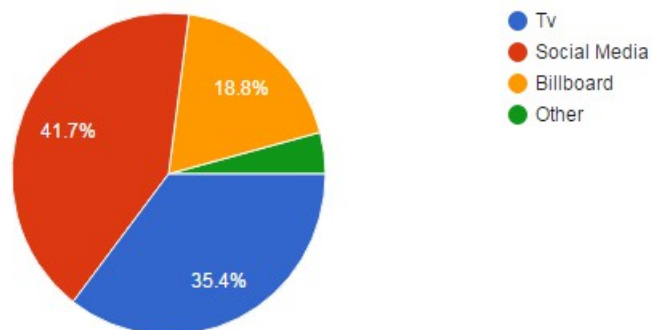

Have you ever seen an advertisement that warns you about something? (e.g. smoking, car accidents)

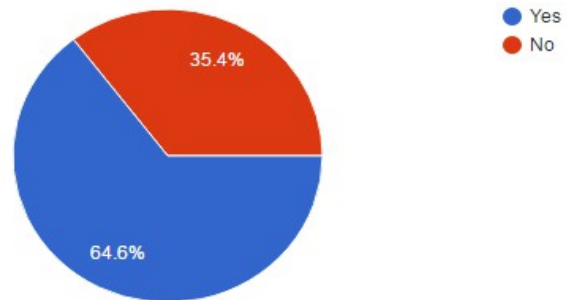

(48 responses)

Where do you usually see those advertisements? (48 responses)

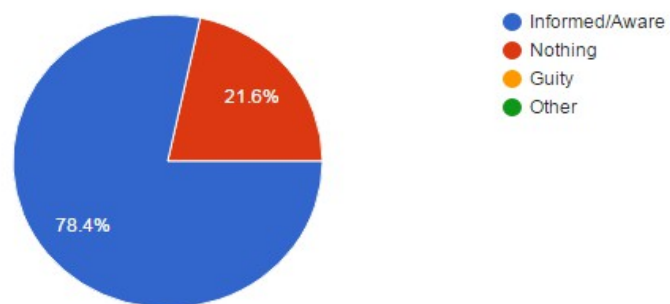

Do the advertisements affect you in any way? (48 responses)

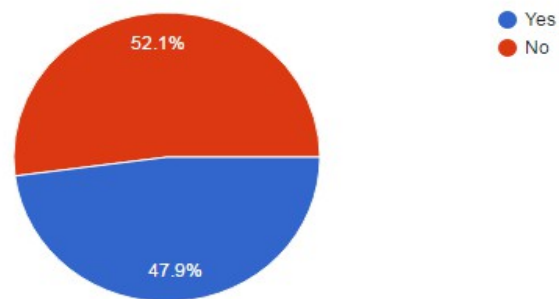

---

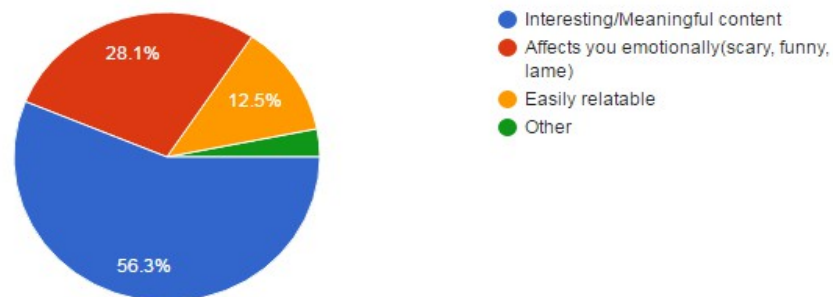

If yes, how do you feel after watching the advertisements? (37 responses)

Does it leave a strong impression in you? (48 responses)

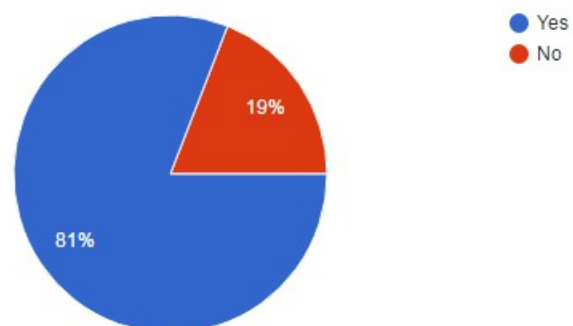

If yes, what makes it easy to remember? (32 responses)

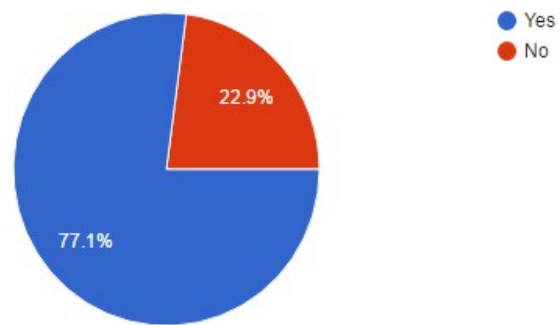

If no, do you think a video that you can physically interact with gives you a stronger impression?

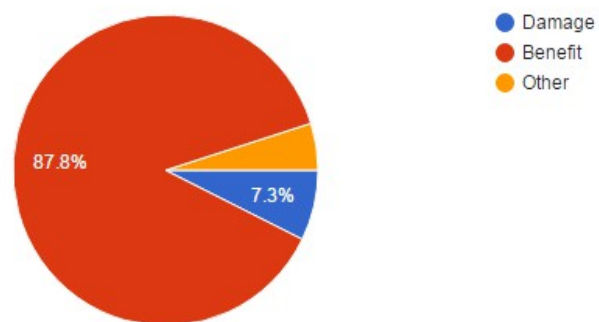

(42 responses)

Do you think awareness videos are able to affect for our society in any way?
(48 responses)

If yes, how does it affect the society? Will it: (41 responses)

-

-

-

-

people tend to not bother about the videos. especially when it is an ad, sometimes when it is aired on tv, people will occupy the ad time to leave the couch and drink water or something. if you put in on youtube they'll skip it after 5 seconds. if it is on billboard, the driver could not pay full attention on it.

people tend to not bother about the videos. especially when it is an ad, sometimes when it is aired on tv, people will occupy the ad time to leave the couch and drink water or something. if you put in on youtube they'll skip it after 5 seconds. if it is on billboard, the driver could not pay full attention on it.

no reason

no reason

Because people will not care unless it happens to them.

people tend to ignore them

I dont know ...

no affection to audience

That advertisement not creative

I answered yes

because nobody gonna give a damn on something dont make sence

i dont think someone will actually chanhe their attitude just by watching a video

People nowadays are not aware of this

huhu

I answered yes.

I said yes but the survey says I need to fill in this section

People tend to ignore the video as its not a real scenario case

Because it's lame and no one cares

Self problem maybe

I'm more to life experience

People won't change because they watch some videos, but they will make a difference if there's someone takes the initiative

oh common

they'll just keep doing it without reevaluate themselves.

society DOESNT CARE

i chose no, suppose no need answer

Yes already .

i answered yes

lame video that ppl don't even want to click

Makes people ponder over things.

No impactful enough, or the society is just indifferent. Some people are ignorant but they shouldn't be blamed solely, our education needs to focus more on loving and caring for others, both institutions and parents need to learn.

Some people are taking things in a playful way and they don't really care about the consequences or nightmare that they're about to witness

Because no people listen

but i answered if yes >.>

people take them for granted

IT'S YES

The weird thing about society is that not all people think the same way. Especially rebels who want to disobey the laws just to look cool that is. So i think it goes both ways.

Yes already .

i answered yes

lame video that ppl dont even wan to click

Makes people ponder over things.

No impactful enough, or the society is just indifferent. Some people are ignorant but they shouldn't be blamed solely, our education needs to focus more on loving and caring for others, both institutions and parents need to learn.

Some people are taking things in a playful way and they don't really care about the consequences or nightmare that they're about to witness

Because no people listen

but i answered if yes >.>

people take them for granted

ITS YES

The weird thing about society is that not all people thinks the same way. Especially rebels who want to disobey the laws just to look cool that is. So i think it goes both ways.

Idk

it depends how the person think

my answer was yes.

i ticked yes :)

Contents & images are not interesting